

GET THE SCOOP

1. Read over this card, and decide whether you want to fill out the online facilitator worksheet (linked below) during or after the workshop. Make sure you fill out your worksheet, as this is how we'll process your workshop's feedback.
2. Pass out a (P) "Talk it Out" card to each of your attendees. Make sure to keep one for yourself as well.
3. Give your attendees a moment to look over the four questions on each of their cards.
4. Let them know that each question corresponds to the corresponding collage board, and that they can use the collage boards to get them thinking about their responses.
5. Get started discussing the questions! Spend about equal time on each question, but let the conversation flow freely!
 - Question 1 focuses on highlights. See if you can get your group to identify things that excite them about their city.
 - Question 2 focuses on non-negotiables. What does your city need to have in order to be good?
 - Question 3 focuses on metrics. How can we tell if Hattiesburg is becoming the best version of itself?
 - Question 4 focuses on personal wants. What sorts of new things around the city do folks want more of? Use the development examples on the "Lifestyle" board to get people thinking.
6. At the end of your meeting, get your group to decide on the full group's top two takeaways from the discussion. This will serve as an opportunity to consolidate everyone's thoughts and give folks a chance to reflect.
7. Thank your attendees, and ask them to take the online survey on the backs of their (P) cards!
